Our program accomplishments and special events are made possible only through the generosity of our loyal donors listed in this report. This year, the Library hosted a special campaign for #GivingTuesday, raising $40,000 in a single day through a football-themed fundraising competition with the Cleveland Library. Our two annual galas, the Black & White Party and Mr. Pratt’s Party, raised nearly $400,000 for the Library and its programs. The Library’s circle of major donors—the Pratt Society—gathered to enjoy author receptions and special events such as Treasures from the Vault and the Publishers’ Preview of much-anticipated new books. The Library’s young friends group—the Pratt Contemporaries—presented events including a Happy Hour tour of the Washington Monument, Trivia and Bingo nights, and of course its signature gala, the Black & White Party, a sell-out each January.

Baltimoreans and Marylanders can be filled with pride as we look back on these—and many other—achievements of the past fiscal year, and I am equally excited to share some of our plans for the year to come. Best-selling authors are scheduled to speak. The Book Buggy has been revamped and branded with the famous children’s book character, Olivia the Pig, to provide library resources across our city. The Patterson Park Branch will receive a magnificent Habitat Garden, and the Hampden Branch, the Library’s seventh branch dating from the turn of the 20th century, will begin the process of much-needed renovations. Our board hopes that you will join us in celebrating these past and forthcoming accomplishments, and that you will visit one of our libraries for an event, program, or simply a great book. Our city and state have much to be proud of in the Enoch Pratt Free Library. On behalf of the entire board, thank you all—our patrons, staff, and supporters—for all that you do for our wonderful and essential institution.

Sincerely,

We gratefully acknowledge our donors for their generous Fiscal Year 2016 Annual Fund Support.

is more than a place to check out books. The Pratt is Baltimore's "town square," where Baltimoreans participate in Pratt programs. The Pratt has grown from a place for learning and support. Each day the Library's mission—to provide equal access to the resources of the Library—is fulfilled.
